Dear Mr. Reid,

We contacted you a few months ago regarding unacceptable smoke from burning rubbish at the bottom of Cloweswood Lane.

I believe that you may already have been contacted by a resident but the problem has been extreme and there are far too many complaints from residents to doubt its validity.

The wind direction was south westerly which meant that the volume of smoke directly affected residents in the Maltings, Malthouse Lane and as far away as The Common.

I was checking my house for an electrical fire, such was the type of smell.

On a personal level I can say that my house was full of the smell, certainly for two nights. My husband has a lung condition and was suffering. A report from The Common said that windows had to be closed of the smell.

I believe that the landowner was asked to take into account wind direction on your previous visit but this obviously doesn't happen. Residents in Cloweswood have reported that the smoke was so dense that they could barely see outside.

This surely is a situation which must be addressed.

We therefore request that you discuss the issue with the landowner and make it clear that the volume of the rubbish burning, and its contents, should be controlled and consideration must be given to the great number of residents affected.

Best wishes.
